WELL, WELL, WELL.

Productivity and employee satisfaction take center stage at LIC's healthiest and newly re-imagined Class A office tower. Touting an impeccable industrial pedigree, a suite of new features rockets the building into the 21st Century.

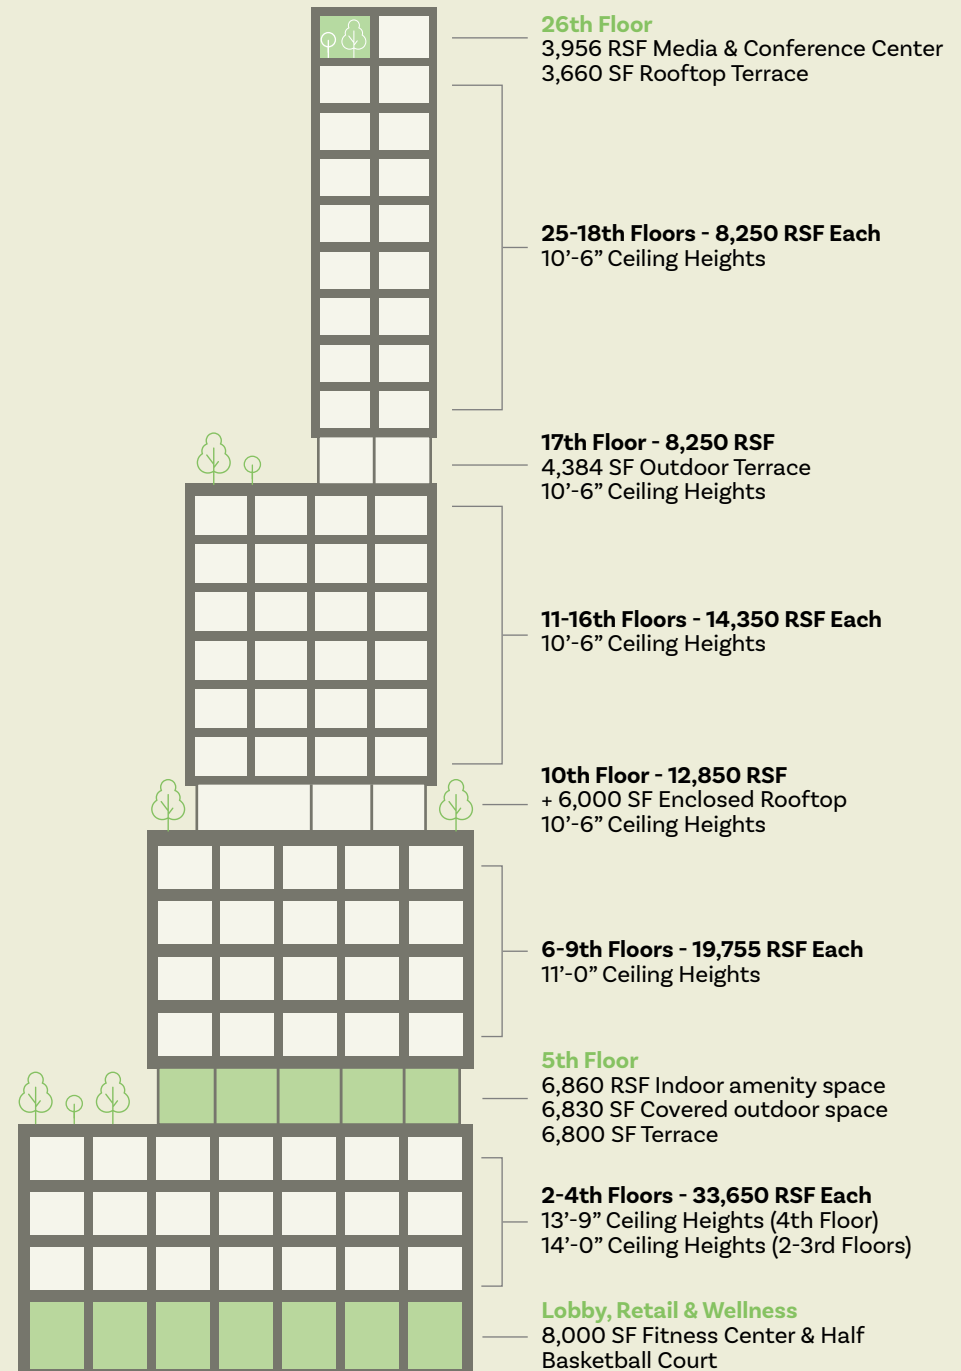

BEST (SQUARE) FOOT FORWARD.

With Opus Point, SLCE Architects has nodded to the historical context of this neighborhood icon, the former headquarters of the Eagle Electric Manufacturing Company, while renovating and enlarging it for the future. As Eagle Electric's former rooftop sign once read, "Perfection is not an Accident."

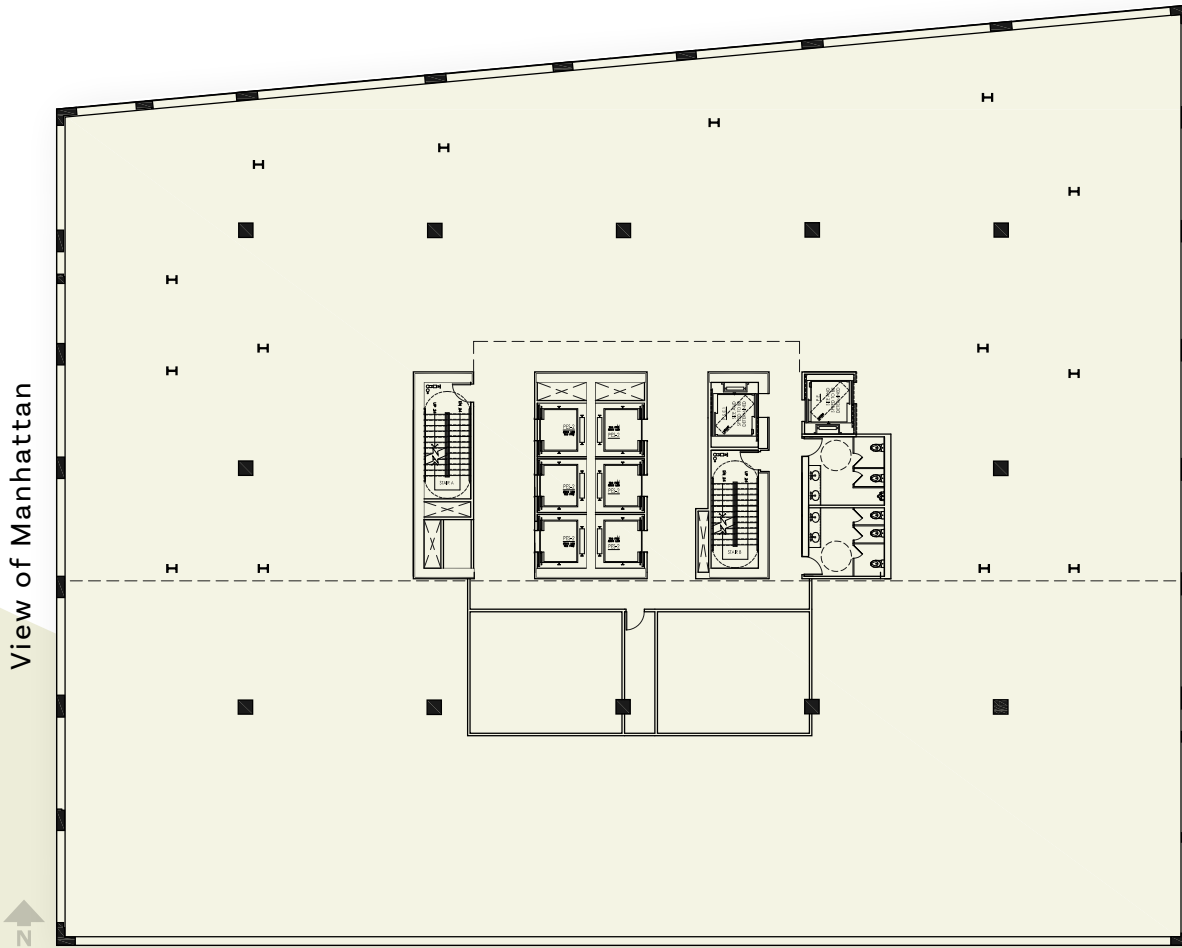

400,000 RSF OF CLASS A OFFICE SPACE

A center-core layout allows for modern, extremely flexible, and efficient floor plates within four newly built and stacked cubes, each with its own terrace tier. Panoramic city views take occupancy to new heights.
